JX/LB4MI Jan Mayen –update by Helge

'Yesterday and today I made 534 CW QSO's on 10/12/15M, with great conditions! Really a record for me, after I started learning CW last year. My internet was not working, but all logs are now updated. My radio is now packed, and ready for shipment home. So I have had the last CW QSO, and the total for CW was 6211. Sadly for the voice operators, I have not been that active on SSB. But I do hope my CW activity here perhaps has inspired someone to start learning CW, using LCWO.NET or joining the great CW OPS online training courses, CW ACADEMY, or at your local club.

Sadly, there will be no ham radio operator this winter on Jan Mayen.'
